Canyon To Buy Tract For Sewer Expansion

BY WAYNE BOARD
The purchase of 57 acres of land at a cost of about $38,000 for the expansion of Canyon's sewerage treatment plant was approved by City Commissioners meeting Monday.

The purchase price, to include two barns and lagoons in the southeast section of the city, was sanctioned subject to the passage of a bond issue for the expansion of the treatment plant.

George Roots, from whom the land will be purchased, had earlier offered various tracts of acreage for the plant expansion at costs from $650 to $1,000 per acre.

City Engineer Bill McMor-ries of Amarillo had earlier recommended an expansion of the sewerage treatment plant. Costs for four various plans offered by McMorries range from one-quarter to one-half million dollars. The 50-plus acreage purchase will fall within the framework of any of the four plans he offered.

Commissioners agreed that the first Tuesday in April would be the earliest date a vote on the bond issue could be taken. No definite date, however, was approved Monday.

McMorries said in a tentative report to the commission that possibly part of the funding for new facilities might come from the Texas Water Quality Board.

The board in Austin, that receives federal funds which are distributed to cities for sewer plant projects, might pay as much as 30 per cent of the costs for Canyon's project. The funds are available through Public Law 660.

The entire procedure, he said, could take as long as two

Cotton Vote Is Scheduled

Ballots on an upcoming referendum on upland cotton marketing quotas have been mailed and must be returned by Friday, according to Donald Lloyd, manager for the ASCS office here.

Those eligible to vote are all producers who shared in the 1967 cotton crops or its proceeds and the owners and operators of the allotment farms where no cotton was planted in 1967.

The lease or sale of cotton allotments is provided for the 1968 crop regardless of the outcome of the marketing quota referendum. However, transfer documents have been filed with the county office not later than Jan. 2, 1968.

Basketball Tournament Opens Friday

An invitational basketball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday at the West Texas State University fieldhouse under the sponsorship of Phi Epsilon Kappa, physical education fraternity.

High school teams participating will be boys teams from

Heavy Work Load

DA To Get Aide

Discuss Pension, May Cost $25,000

Randall County commissioners court Monday afternoon authorized District Attorney George Dowlen to hire an assistant at $6,000 a year.

Dowlen said he has a specific attorney in mind but will not be able to announce the name of his assistant until a later date.

"If it pans out and pays off for the county, I'll probably be back down here to get him some more money," Dowlen told commissioners.

Dowlen said the work load of his post has reached such a peak that he is unable to spend sufficient time in his office.

Dowlen said one of the primary assignments of his new assistant will be to work on county tax suits now pending.

Dowlen recently moved into new offices in a remodeled portion of the jury dormitory in the court house annex. The office employs a secretary and employment of an assistant prosecutor will bring the district attorney's staff to three, counting Dowlen himself.

Commissioners Monday discussed a county employee pension plan which could cost Randall County as much as $25,000 annually beginning Jan. 1.

Counties are now authorized to begin pension funds with the county employees putting aside 7 percent of their pay checks and the county kicking in a matching amount.

Dowlen told commissioners that the minimum under the plan is 4 percent from both county and employees. Maximum salary upon which the county will pay matching funds is $6,000 a year. County employees drawing in excess of this amount will be eligible to participate but the county will participate on salary only up to $6,000.

An employee, elected or otherwise, must have worked 12 years for the county in order to retire at the age of 60. An employee may retire at any age after 30 years of service.

Girlstown To Benefit

"Girlstown USA will have a better Christmas due to the citizens of Canyon," said Delbert Turk, Jaycee president, following a benefit auction which was held Saturday night at the Randall County Junior Livestock Building.

"We raised about $100 for Girlstown," said Turk. All items auctioned were donated by local citizens and funds from the project will be forwarded to Girlstown's managing director, Marshall Cooper.

Chorale Sings In BIT Sunday

Six West Texas State University students from Canyon will be among the 49-voice University Chorale that has scheduled a performance here Sunday.

The group will close its pre-Christmas season are tour with the concert that is slated at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building auditorium. The concert is open to the public.

Those from Canyon to be performing will be Mary Ann Wheelock, soprano and Chorale secretary; John Brandon, bass; Sharon Kerbel, alto; Mike Wilson, bass; Steve Hilton, tenor; and John Brantley, who plays second horn in the Brass and Percussion Company which accompanies the University Chorale.

Conducted by Dr. Houston Bright, professor of music and composer-in-residence at WTSU, the group was recently on tour in eight West Texas cities.

Guest artist for the Sunday performance will be Jean Gray, soprano of Pampa, accompanied by Lorna Schultz of Amarillo. Selections scheduled by Dr. Bright will include "The People" (See CHORALE Page 5)

Blue Ribbon Program Set

There will be six phases in a program to qualify Canyon for a Blue Ribbon City Award from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

These include parks and recreation, industrial development, education, tourism, improvement of local government and community beautification.

Joe Gidden and Paul Davis are in charge of the Blue Ribbon program. Thirteen people attended a leadership meeting Tuesday afternoon to kick off the Small Town Economic Program in Canyon. It is under the program that blue ribbon awards are made by the WTCC.

Gidden said existing organizations such as civic groups will be used to implement the program. Chairmen will be appointed for each phase.

Davis pointed out that many small towns in West Texas will disappear by the year 2000. He said the blue ribbon program is designed to upgrade communities and prepare them for survival.

Gidden enumerated assets of the Canyon community and said already existing improvements can be used for points to qualify for the WTCC blue ribbon award.

Member Drive Now Under Way

Canyon Chamber of Commerce is conducting a membership campaign this week.

Conclusion of the campaign is expected to come Friday.

Benny Cooper, campaign chairman, said plans are to hold the annual membership drive in December from now on so incoming Chamber presidents will have a better knowledge of the budget with which they will be working.

Public Hearing Slated Friday

A City Commission public hearing is scheduled Friday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss a request that about 30 acres in Hunsley Hills be changed from dwelling to commercial zoning classification. The public hearing is to be held in the City Hall Annex.

Arch Hunsley, Canyon developer, has requested the property that is situated between 11th and 15th Streets be rezoned to allow him to construct multi-family dwellings.

The Zoning and Planning Commissions have sanctioned the rezoning action.

OSCAR HINGER, right, and Ralph Mardis talk over plans for the Randall Scout District. Hinger was installed district chairman and Mardis became district commissioner Monday night in installation ceremonies held at Canyon High School Auditorium.

Oscar Hinger was installed district chairman of Randall District, Llano Estacado Council, Boy Scouts of America, Monday night in ceremonies at Canyon High School auditorium.

Hinger is principal of Rex Reeves Elementary School here.

He has been associated with scouting for a number of years and formerly was scoutmaster of Troop 66. Under his tutelage the troop was outstanding in achievement.

Hinger was awarded the coveted Silver Beaver for his service to scouting. This year he is serving as district advancement chairman on the district scouting committee.

Hinger also is active in civic work and the affairs of First Baptist Church of which he is a member. He is a past president of Canyon Lions Club.

Hinger succeeds Joe Gidden as district chairman.

Other district officers installed Monday night include Ralph Mardis, district commissioner; Aubrey Crossland, chairman for organization and

Yule Cards Hit 5,000

About 5,000 holiday greetings will be sent to servicemen in Vietnam due to efforts of the Canyon Junior High School History Club.

The club canvassed the city Saturday collecting 4,000 cards and about $40 in donations. The donated funds will be used to purchase additional cards.

"We even had a box of cards sent to us from Clovis, New Mexico," stated Mrs. Janice Eubank, club sponsor.

The holiday cards will be signed by the CJHS History Club on behalf of the citizens of Canyon and shipped to servicemen.

Santa Returns Here Saturday

Santa will be in Canyon Saturday!

Santa will be headquartered at the Jaycee Santa House, on the courthouse square, between the hours of 4-6 p.m. to hear the "wishes" of Canyon youngsters. He will also visit with local children on Dec. 16 before loading his sleigh for the trip on Christmas Eve.

In addition to Santa's visit Saturday, children will be given the opportunity to see a matinee film at 2 p.m. at the Olympic Theatre on the north side of the square.

Merchants participating in the Downtown Shopping Center are giving "free" passes to the film. A matinee film is also slated for Dec. 16.

While visiting Canyon last Thursday night, Santa Claus reminded local youngsters "to get their Santa letters in the mail by December 15". He has made arrangements with The Canyon News to print the letters and then forward them to the North Pole.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

In a Fort Worth meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last week the Chamber's education committee charged that West Texas is not getting a fair share of the educational funds of the state. The committee said West Texas is paying for more education than it is getting. I ask the simple question, "Why?" I hope West Texas State University's Committee of 67, a committee investigating the opportunities for advancement of the university, comes up with some answers to this one. The Panhandle sits on top of some of the state's richest natural resources and embraces some of its best agricultural land. Our future is tied up with the future of our educational facilities. Our best interest is being drained away, in many cases never to return. Alan Demus, for instance, one of the top young brains in the world, is a Canyon product. He went to Rice to school and our chances of getting him back to the Panhandle after he completes his education are small. The first thing we have to do is decide to do something about attracting scholars to West Texas State. The Committee of 67 has already suggested a move in this field. Coach Joe Kerbel has already proved that he can attract good football players. It is just as important--more important to the economic well being of our area--that we attract All-American scholars. Let's find out WHY we are being made the victims of a brain drain and then do something about it.

Coach Joe Kerbel and his team did us proud in California. They not only kept an unblemished record--this makes four wins--by winning the Junior Rose Bowl, they also made a lot of friends for West Texas State on the trip. Incidentally, Kerbel doesn't drop his charges when football season is finished. He holds regular meetings with his team and one of the things he continually admonishes his boys on is gentlemanly conduct.

"Remember, you represent the school and the team," Kerbel told the Buffs at the Tuesday meeting.

Joe Gidden and Paul Davis are accepting suggestions on projects which would make Canyon a better place in which to live. Davis and Gidden are co-chairmen of a West Texas Chamber of Commerce Blue Ribbon City Award Program designed to win Canyon a blue ribbon award from the WT Chamber. The program is called STEP--Small Town Economic Program.

If you have any suggestions, fire them to Joe and Paul.

A leadership conference among leaders in the Amarillo metropolitan area is being held Saturday at Amarillo College. West Texas State University, Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Randall County commissioners court and Canyon city commission have been asked to send representatives. I hope they do.

The orderly development of the metropolitan area is vital to Canyon and Randall County.

Security Officers Given Authority

State university security officers in Texas now have the same authority as city and highway patrol officers, except in enforcing city ordinances.

Several laws were discussed and clarified pertaining to state universities at the Texas Association of College and University Traffic and Security Departments conference at Texas A&M last week.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, West Texas State University dean of student life, and Bobby Hudson, WTSU Security Department head, attended the sessions.

Dr. Carruth addressed the group on "Campus Police and Student Life Program" and Hudson participated in a panel discussion involving security personnel.

Accidents on university streets and ways, including drives that involve damages of $25 or more, must be reported to the Department of Public

Resolution

Canyon, Texas, November 5, 1967
RESOLUTION OF RESPECT FOR DR. L. F. SHEFFY

Whereas in the recent passing of Dr. Lester Fields Sheffy the Canyon rotary Club has lost one of its most exemplary and most cherished members; and

Whereas this community has lost one of its most useful and most distinguished citizens; and

Whereas, as a greatly beloved teacher for some 50 years Dr. Sheffy has exercised an imperishable influence upon hundreds if not thousands of our youth; and

Whereas his tireless energy and his zealous devotion to his Great Plains area were major factors in creating and developing The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and one of the very best regional museums in America; and

Whereas, in his late years he gave himself unreservedly to historical research and writing and produced several books that will live long in the libraries of our country; Therefore Be It Resolved by the Canyon Rotary Club that we shall hold in reverent memory his life of service as a noble example of Rotary at its best; and

Be it further resolved that we extend our deepest sympathy to all members of his family; that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved wife and a copy to his distant loved ones.

Also be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be submitted to The Canyon News and a copy filed with the minutes of this organization.

Respectfully submitted
J. A. Hill, Committee Chairman

Letter To The Editor

My Dear Editor:

You recently wrote in your column that more pictures of bridegrooms ought to be printed so we would know what they look like. You set me to thinking. You are to be congratulated for that, and for your suggestion. But there is more to be said.

For instance, in our society columns we say that the bride graduated from Bryn Mawr or Smith or West Texas State. We tell all about what she wore--usually about the same thing brides have worn since fig leaves went out of fashion.

We don't mention the bridegroom's education. Sometimes we refer to him as "the groom" (the bloke who takes care of the horses, Me Lord). We don't mention the bridegroom's education. Is the reader to assume that he is a nunny? We don't say how this man, now married and a prospective father, is going to make a living. Is he a cowboy on the canyon rim, a grocery clerk here in town, a doctor, a lawyer, or a college professor? Aren't all these more or less honorable callings? Unless the bridegroom is independently wealthy or is a ne'er-do-well who will let his wife do all the work, some mention of his role as a prospective breadwinner seems in order.

We don't say--on the society page--whether the bridegroom wore a custom-tailored suit, a hand-me-down, or a rented tuxedo. Is the reader to assume that the bridegroom got married in dishabille? My dear editor, what indecencies we commit by omissions as we loiter down the primrose path of printer's ink.

You and I and thousands of other editors and writers have been foolish virgins at the marriage feast--well, foolish anyway. Our inkpots have been expended on the brides.

Come to think of it, the bride is not even mentioned in Matthew 25:1-13. Presumably there was a bride. Possibly she was not essential to the parable, but I am glad there was one at my wedding. Most men, I daresay, feel the same way. There is no use calling for abolition of brides from our society columns, but there is such a thing as equality. It may be unattainable, but it is a challenge. Thus, it is proposed to organize the Masculine Equality in Nuptial Society (MENS).

We would see that bridegrooms get their pictures in the paper. We would liberate the bridegroom from his position as a nude, ignorant, good-for-nothing.

This is the time to launch our campaign. We are on the eve of a political year. We point with pride, we view with alarm, we throw our hats into the ring without fear or favor. I shall nominate you, my dear editor, for president of MENS if you will appoint me treasurer.

Fraternalty yours
Ernest G. Fischer

Randelles Have Meet

Randelle 4-H Club met recently at the Farm Bureau Building with Connie Brazzil as presiding officer. Plans were discussed for a Christmas social to be held Dec. 19 at the Junior Livestock Building. Mrs. Lewis Tucek discussed projects for the livestock show in January and also outlined new achievement projects for the year.

GALE RHINE(40) takes the ball down court for the Buffaloes. He is being pursued by Rebel John Shelton(33). This action unfolded Monday night in the West Texas State University Fieldhouse as the Buffs lost a heart-breaking 87-82 game to the visitors.

WEST TEXAS STATE'S Simmie Hill (44) goes up to score in the game with Phillips 66ers last Friday night. Two and, sometimes three, Phillips cagers guarded Hill at a time. The Buff sharpshooter rallied his team by pouring in 27 points in spite of the heavy guard.

Local Museum Receives Items

The Panhandle Plains Historical Museum has received the contribution of three items used as early transportation, according to Boone McClure, director.

McClure, who met in Fort Worth last week with R. G. Hughes and State Sen. Grady Hazlewood, said the museum would receive a 1929-model Cadillac automobile, a chuckwagon used on the Mathews-Reynolds at Albany, Tex., and a horse-drawn carriage from England.

The articles, on which no value has been established, are part of the estate of the late Amon Carter, Sr. of Shady Oaks Acres. Hughes, a West Texas State University ex-student, recently purchased the estate from Amon Carter, Jr.

Hazlewood, who arranged the Fort Worth meeting, is also president of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Society.

Bufs Lose Close Cage Bout

Playing with the fulltime services of high-scoring Simmie Hill, the West Texas State University cagers dropped a heart-breaking 87-82 collegiate opener to Arlington's Rebels Monday night in the WTSU Fieldhouse.

A crowd of 2,800 watched a stubborn Arlington defense unit thwart the Buffs' scoring effort. WTSU's misfires at the free-throw line late in the second half keyed the Buff loss to the Rebels.

Hill, who was recuperating from a case of tonsillitis, was not scheduled to play in the Monday night contest. However, when the Buffs could not gain enough scoring power, he was pressed into service.

Still, the big man for the Buffs scored 29 points against the Rebels and led the Buffalo rebounders with 14 to his credit.

In the last six minutes of the contest, the Buffs missed the first shot of one-and-one situations. Arlington's Little (5-9) Terry George picked up six points in the final two minutes. The total Arlington offense got ten points in the last two and one-half minutes, eight of those points coming in the free-throw category.

The game was a close one all the way, with both teams staying within five points of each other throughout most of the contest. With 1:58 remaining, the Buffs trailed 79-78.

At that point the Rebels went into a stall, forcing the ball-hungry Buffs to commit fouls. Arlington outscored the West Texas cagers 10-4 in the last two minutes of play.

WTSU led on rebounds, 41-23. David Nowlin trailed Hill's 14 rebounds with a second place total of nine for the home team.

Although he injured his ankle in the first half, Buff Mike Mitchell was the second high scorer for the locals with 17 points. Third high-scoring Buffalo was Lonnie Speck, who hit 11 times successfully.

The Buffs lost another close one to the Phillips 66ers 92-90 here Friday night of last week.

Hill scored 27 points in that contest while Mitchell poured in another 20 points for the home towners. Harold Sargent scored a fantastic 31 points for the visitors.

The drive was kicked off Tuesday morning at a breakfast in the Gold Room of the West Texas State University Cafeteria.
Cooper noted that 12 new business have begun operation in Canyon since the last membership drive.
Cooper listed some of the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year.
The Chamber got out a color brochure for the first time this year. It established an industrial development foundation and sponsored two agriculture seminars. It aided Dr. T. Paige Carruth in making trips to four area high schools to urge students to attend West Texas State University.
The Chamber sponsored two trips to Austin—one in connection with Palo Duro Canyon and the other to an industrial seminar.
Plans have been made for an industrial conference to be held in Canyon Jan. 9.

Joseph G. McCoy, played the key roles in the establishment and success of the famed cattle trail.
Chisholm was of Scottish and Indian ancestry. He was a scout, hunter, trader and trailblazer and spoke about 40 Indian languages and dialects which gave him influence among Indian tribes of the southwest.
McCoy was a livestock dealer in Illinois. In 1867, he saw opportunities awaiting a person bold enough to take decisive action in establishing a shipping point for cattle from Texas.
Early day cattle drives merely followed wagon tracks on "Chisholm's Trail" which had been laid out through Chisholm's trading with the Indians.
The railroad car museum is devoted to history of the Chisholm Trail and also includes exhibits showing the development of the Colt revolver, various types of barbed wire, the cowboy's chuckwagon and cooking gear, and several famed western paintings.

Lake . . .

tributed with killing the rough and game fish this year, comes from the feces of warm-blooded animals. The survey will seek to determine what portion of the coliform bacteria count can be attributed to waterfowl and if there is a multiplication of the organisms in the lake waters or is the source from runoff and waterfowl only.
The report proposes the establishment of five sampling stations above the lake, and above and below Frio Creek and Friona.
Participating agencies in the study will be the Texas Water Development Board, Texas Water Quality Board, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Texas State Department of Health, Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, US Public Health Service and the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.
The participating agencies, in addition to the City of Hereford, Texas Cattle Feeders' Association, Amarillo Bi-City County Health Unit, Deaf Smith County Health office, Golden Spread Hunting and Fishing Club and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, attended the Tuesday meeting.

Ritter and Felix Pierce said they favored the action requested last week by R. O. Sisk, Sr., owner of the complex.
"If we okay this one (request), we've got some more to hit us just like it," the Mayor declared before the vote was taken.
Sisk had asked for the deviation that would allow him to have 140 feet of lay-down curbing at the apartment building, but commissioners said they wanted a parking plot showing there was room for 30 vehicles. Sisk's apartment has 20 units and commissioners indicated they wanted one and one-half parking spaces per unit, although the ordinance calls for only one.
City Manager Paul Davis said Sisk had previously agreed in writing to have one and one-half parking spaces per unit with no lay-down curbing.
According to the parking plot R. O. Sisk, Jr. submitted Monday, an additional 10 off-street parking places were needed to meet the ordinance requirements.
"We've worked with that (parking plot), gentlemen, and that's the best we can come up with," Sisk declared.
After Sisk recommended a counter-proposal that he be allowed some 90-degree angle parking on his property, commissioners said they wanted McMorris to study the altered plot plan before making a decision. The matter will further be discussed by commissioners Friday.
A request from West Texas State University that the city provide garbage-collection service was also discussed. Davis said the city could provide the service for $637 on a "break-even" basis.
City dads were told the State Highway Department would pay all the cost for extension of street lighting from north Third Avenue to the north side of the highway interchange, but that the project would not become a reality until the spring of 1969.
The possibility of employing an auditing firm for the 1967-1968 fiscal year was discussed, but no action was taken. Pent, Marwick and Mitchell, Amarillo auditors, prepared the audit last year for $2,200, but they wanted an additional $600 this year for the service.

Each commissioner received a copy of Zoning Standards proposed for Canyon by Marvin Springer, urban planning consultant from Dallas. Springer met last week with Planning, Zoning and City Commissioners to discuss the proposed changes for Canyon.
The 1968-1969 budget currently being prepared, Davis explained, will probably be submitted for commission approval by Jan. 1, 1968.

Downen said participating employees still must pay social security. Commissioners indicated that a decision on Randall County participation will be made before Jan. 1, possibly next week.
Money placed in such a retirement plan will be invested on a state level.
District Attorney Dowlen is scheduled to explain the pension system to groups of county employees within the next few days.
Randall County auditor revealed that county salaries this year will run about $364,572.66. If all employees participate and the county decides on the maximum percentage, the county's part in the plan will come to somewhere near $25,000.
"We must decide to put in our application if we're going to participate," said Commissioner Clarence Beckman, "and I guess we are. No one is staying out."
Randall County will try to sell its 34 mechanical voting machines in order to buy punch-card type voting machines recently approved by the secretary of state.
Five different brands of punch-card voting machines have received state approval. Punch-card voting machines cost about $200 each. Voters punch their choice on IBM-type cards. These can be counted rapidly by IBM tabulating machines.
Commissioner B. R. Jones said that any IBM tabulating machine could count Randall County votes within minutes after the cards are delivered to it. He said there is a possibility of using IBM facilities at West Texas State University.
Randall County owns 34 Automatic Voting Machines purchased in March of 1963 at a cost of $61,132, a per unit cost of $1,798. It is these machines which the county will offer for sale.

In other business, the court appointed Dr. Dudley Moore Randall County health officer to succeed the late Dr. Robert Jarrett.
Commissioners also discussed microfilming of records in the county clerk's office.

Money put into the plan by the county for such an employee will remain in the retirement fund.

Buff Gridders Win Bowl Game

The Buffaloes of West Texas State University kept an unblemished bowl record Saturday as they defeated the Matadors of San Fernando Valley State College 35-13.

Joe Kerbel's charges made history in another way. They became the first senior college team to win the 22-year-old Junior Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Cal. Up to now the Junior Rose Bowl has hosted outstanding junior college teams.

It was the fourth post season outing in history for the Buffs and the fourth bowl game win. It was the second time Coach Kerbel had piloted his team to a bowl championship. His Buffalo team won the Sun Bowl trophy in 1962.

The West Texans took their eighth victory of the year before a disappointing crowd of 23,800. Although it was one of the largest crowds the Buffs had played before during the season, it was nearly 10,000 below the worst turnout in the bowl's history and only about half the number expected.

Pre-game estimates had set the number expected at near the 45,000 mark. Inclement weather prior to the game was blamed for the poor attendance mark.

Probably the biggest surprise of the game was sophomore corner back Billy Lantow. He undoubtedly played the finest game of his career. He swiped two key passes and was credited with nine tackles. He was named top defensive player of the game.

Eugene "Mercury" Morris delivered as expected. The Mercury man romped 173 yards, scored two touchdowns, and was named the game's outstanding offensive player.

Probably no player played under more pressure than did Don Tardy, whose wife, the former Debbie Wirt, is expecting a baby momentarily. Debbie (and Don) weathered the game however, and Debbie was at the airport to meet her husband Monday.

The Buffs returned triumphantly to the Panhandle to walk on red carpet under an archway of red roses and to be greeted by throngs of fans and well-wishers.

In defeating the Matadors the Buffs stopped a dangerous passer named Bruce Lemmerman who went into the game with 27 touchdown throws to his credit.

Paradoxically, the Buffaloes had to come from behind to get the best of the Matadors. On the second offensive play of the game, Valley State Guard Allen Aldrich latched onto a mid-air fumble by Buff Curley "Bear" Waters and went 35 yards to paydirt.

This, however, might have been the key to the Buffalo victory. It released the tension and settled a bad case of early-game jitters for the West Texans.

Following the Valley State scoring opener, the Buffaloes quickly tied the score with an 82-yard drive, featuring a scoring run of 40 yards by Morris.

The Buffs then made it 14-7 in the second quarter on a 56-yard scoring drive. Albie "Double O" Owens, Buff fullback, raced the final 19 yards for the go-ahead score.

Lantow, picked off a Lemmerman pass just before halftime to maintain the Buffalo margin going into the third quarter.

The Matadors scored early in the third quarter on a 78-yard drive. But Dave Whitmire, Buffalo defense stalwart, blocked the conversion attempt and the Buffs still led 14-13.

From that point on, the WTSU offensive dominated the game. With 1:51 left in the third quarter, Morris scored from six yards out, and Fambrough booted his third conversion of the game. The score became 21-13.

Owens carried the next score over from the three. With 12:40 left to play, Donnie Pruitt converted for the Buffs and the score zoomed up to 28-13.

Buffalo Tackle Dag Azam pounced on a Matador fumble at the Valley Staters' 27-yard marker. Owens again carried the ball over from the three. Fambrough booted the final point for the game and it ended that way, 35-13, with no one questioning the WTSU representatives' right to victory.

Outstanding defense men, besides Lantow and Whitmire, were Troy Anderson, Carl Hellman, Jesse Powell and Jimmy Campbell.

Buff fullback Owens had his best game of the year, scoring three touchdowns and gaining 113 yards in the rushing department. Owens replaced fullback Duane Thomas in the latter part of the season when the regular fullback suffered a broken bone in his ankle.

Coach Kerbel said the Buffaloes should have another bowl-worthy team in 1968 with such returnees as Thomas, Owens and the untouchable "Mercury" man.

Happy's Cowboys Defeat Channing

The Happy Cowboys defeated Channing Tuesday evening by a score of 44-33 but the girls fell in a squeaker 38-37.

Don Maynard dropped in 12 markers for the Cowboys and the defensive side of the team was a "strong point," according to Coach Gail Simpson. "Our boys are well-balanced in their scoring and have real good teamwork," Simpson said. The team stands 5-2 for the season. In the girls' contest, Peggy Bates was high point scorer with 21 markers.

The team, Simpson related, is "coming real fast" and has scored more points in their last five outings than in all the games played last year.

Although they have won no games this year, the girls have been beaten by only one point in their last two games.

The boys have scheduled three games in the West Texas State University Invitational Tournament this week end. They meet McAdoo at 4:15 p.m. and Canyon at 9 p.m. Friday and have a clash slated Saturday at 4 p.m. with Clarendon.

In the WTSU meet the girls play Tulla at 8 a.m. and Canyon at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Clarendon Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

And I want a baby crawlalong and a locky locker and a suzy home baker set and two Dynel wigs and a Bizzy Buzz Buzz and a tubsy and blue bugy. Love, my brother and Mary Alice.

Letters to Santa Claus should be in the mail by December 15 so that they may be printed in The Canyon News before being sent to St. Nick at the North Pole.

Bufs Hit Road, Play Texas A&M Today

West Texas State's basketball team opens a two-game road slate Thursday when the Bufs meet undefeated Texas A & M at College Station. Tipoff is set for 8 p.m.

Coach Dennis Walling's Bufs will be seeking their first win of the season after losing an 87-82 opener to torrid-shooting University of Texas at Arlington here at the West Texas Fieldhouse Tuesday night.

Texas A & M will enter Thursday's game with two straight victories under their belt. The Aggies clipped Louisiana Tech 84-77 in their season opener and edged Trinity 106-95 in overtime Tuesday night.

"We'll have to play an outstanding ball game to defeat the Aggies on their home court," says Walling. "They aren't likely to forget our 89-71 victory over them last season."

The Bufs 1966 victory over

Texas A & M saved them the misfortune of a winless season. With a fine crop of junior college transfers and some promising sophomores, the 1967-68 squad appears considerably stronger.

Simmie Hill, a 6-6 forward with exceptional moves, looms as a bonafide All-America candidate in the Buff lineup. Hill was one of the few bright spots in West Texas' 87-82 opening loss to University of Texas. He scored 27 points and picked off 14 rebounds.

Joining Hill as probable Buff starters against the Aggies will be guards Mike Mitchell (17.0), Gale Rhine (9.0), and Lonnie Speck (11.0) and center Maurice (Mo) Savage (9.0).

Coach Shelby Metcalf's Aggies are paced by 6-4 guard Mike Heitmann. The Houston sophomore leads Aggie scorers with an 18.0 point average in two contests.

Ronnie Peret, junior center, is the Aggies second leading scorer, averaging 16 points. The 6-9 Plainview native hit 30 points against the Bufs last season.

Rounding out the probable Aggie starting unit are guards Billy Bob Barnett (15.5), and Johnny Underwood (13.5) and 6-6 forward Harry Bostic (13.5).

The Bufs will meet University of New Mexico at Albuquerque Dec. 13 before hosting Abilene Christian College here Dec. 16.

Hinders Herd Sets Record

A new annual herd production average for milk and butterfat has been announced for the Registered Holstein herd owned by Louis G. Hinders, Palo Duro Holstein Farm, Canyon.

As reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the herd has completed its latest testing year with an official per-cow average of 16,893 lbs. of milk and 640 lbs. of butterfat, based on 62 completed lactations.

Texas A. & M. University supervised the weighing and production testing procedures in cooperation with this breed improvement program of the Holstein organization.

The results of participation in official production testing are useful to herd owners in measuring breeding progress, analyzing herd management and the development of outstanding cow families.

This herd's performance level compares favorably to the average U. S. cow's annual output of 8,080 lbs. of milk and 299 lbs. of butterfat. Production averages are calculated on the commonly employed, two milkings per day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis to provide a comparison standard.

CHS Eagles Drop Stinnett 65-61

Foul trouble was the contributing factor that almost led to the defeat of the Canyon High School Eagles against Stinnett there Tuesday evening in a three-minute overtime basketball game.

Although the Eagles won the clash 65-61, Coach Tom Buchanan said his squad, which was composed primarily of junior students, went into the fourth quarter with several fouls.

When the fourth quarter ended, the score stood 55-55, but Eagle Jackie Thrasher managed to sink four markers in the best Sternenberg tallied seven points.

The Canyon aggregation "really got busy" toward the latter portion of the second quarter, Coach Bob Schneider related, and was able to lead the Rattlers 31-16 at the close of the half.

Miss Swartzell, Schneider declared, was good on offense, recording a shooting percentage of 64.2 from the field and 75 per cent from the charity line. Sheryl Davis and Beverly Brown both scored high on the point system used by the coaches.

Pinky Woodward sank 22 of the 'B' squad's 28 points, Schneider said, and Cindy Jones pulled down nine rebounds on defense.

Over all, Schneider explained, the team is improving with each game.

"Each game gives more experience which helps a great deal," he said. "This really shows up in future games we play."

The Canyon assemblage did not fare too well in a tournament in Friona last week end, dropping two of three games to neighboring schools.

In the Friona tourney, Canyon fell to Spearman 37-45 and to Farwell 31-49, but was able to defeat Bovina 54-31.

Canyon will be attempting to best a 4-4 game season record in the West Texas State University Invitational Tournament this week end.

The Eagles will play Clarendon at 10:30 a.m. and Happy at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and is scheduled to meet Tulia at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

of overtime. Dropping two points each in the three-minute period were Lon Conner, Ricky Davis and Bill Szydlowski.

Thrasher led the Eagles in scoring with 35 points in a game that saw Canyon ahead at half-time 33-20.

"The team looked pretty good defensively," Buchanan said, "and we're making a little more progress game by game."

In the 'B' game, however, the Eagles fell to the Stinnett Rattlers 32-28.

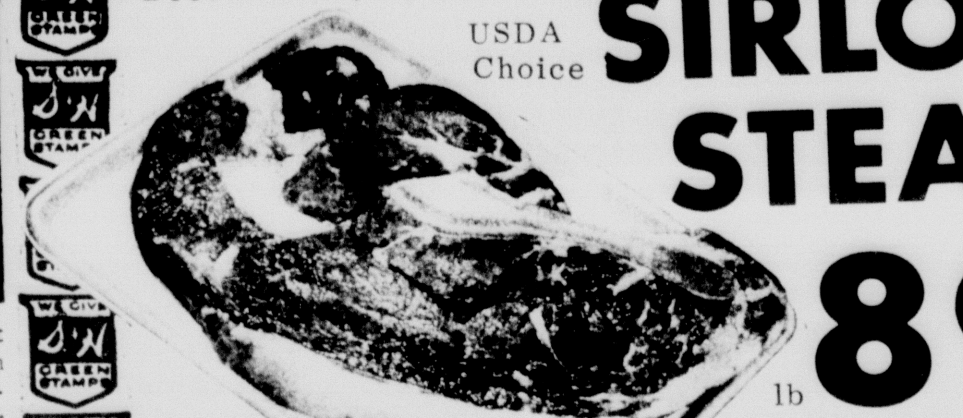

In that contest, Bobby Martin sank 10 points and Jerry Landrum was close behind with 9 markers.

The Eagles will be pitted against Andrews in a tournament there at 2:45 Friday, with two additional games slated Saturday.

The 'B' team will play Clarendon Friday at 5:40 p.m. in the West Texas State University Invitational Tournament. They play Happy at 9 p.m. Friday and the McAdoo team at 10:30 Saturday morning.

HD Agent Suggests

Gift Wrap Ideas For Christmas Holidays

"Whether you wrap your holiday packages in the traditional manner with simple bows or individualize the packages with a special theme depends on your holiday timing and your own preferences," said Mrs. Sydney Hall, home demonstration agent for Randall County at a recent meeting of the Canyon Home

Demonstration Club.

The statement was an introduction for a program on "Holiday Gift Wraps" which Mrs. Hall has been presenting during the month of November for home demonstration clubs and other interested groups.

In her program, Mrs. Hall emphasized that simplicity should be the rule of the holidays. She urged that ample supplies of gift wrap items such as paper, ribbon, seals and gift tags be kept available throughout the holidays. She also stressed that scissors, glue or rubber cement, cellophane tape and a ruler should be among the supply items.

"Always choose a wrapping paper with a design opaque enough to completely cover surface printing on the box," said Mrs. Hall explaining that a first wrap of butcher paper may sometimes be required with thin tissue or madras wrapping paper.

"Select a smooth, hard surface and allow ample space for your work area," added Mrs. Hall. She also described special hints in wrapping packages for best effects.

"The hardest part is simply in deciding what you want to do," said Mrs. Hall. She suggested that some boxes be wrapped separately from the lid with secure coverings so that the gift box may be used later as a crayon box by young children or a hideaway box for in-between youngsters. She also suggested that larger boxes may be covered with contact paper and used after the holidays as closet accessories.

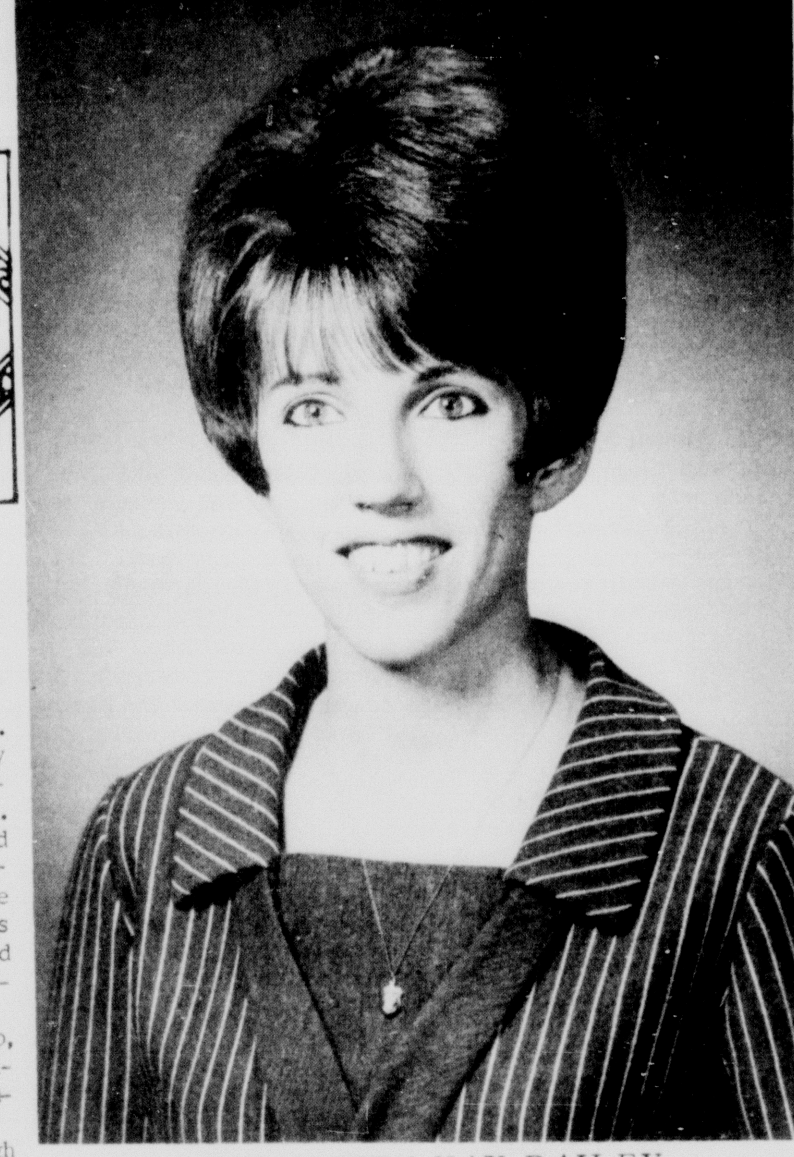

"Individualized boxes take a little more time, but they also add sparkle under the Christmas tree and are pleasure for the giver as well as the recipient," stated Mrs. Hall.

For long slim boxes, she suggested a cut-out of an inkwell with a feather pen, or a stripe paper with music notes cut from felt, or cutouts of snowflakes.

Among other ideas demonstrated were a reindeer, made of Q-tips, construction paper cutouts of children for a family game box, or a felt cut-out of Santa's face.

Also displayed were a felt Christmas tree cutout trimmed with gold braid and headed pins, a flower made of embroidery floss and accented with a gold braid stem and leaf, a gold angel with braid edging, or a felt palette art board with dashes of color and a miniature paintbrush.

"Many good ideas can be adapted from holiday magazines," concluded Mrs. Hall. "The gift itself oftentimes suggests the wrapping idea."

lay a white Bible belonging to the bride.

Mrs. George Hudson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor length dress of royal blue velvet and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Craig Hinger of Canyon served as best man.

The bride wore a formal wedding gown of white slipper satin with a lace train as she was given in marriage by her father. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held by a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church with white candles accenting the lace covered serving table. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and topped with two white doves holding wedding rings in their beaks. Members of the house-party were Mesdames Dennis Morris, Jack Roatcap, and Jim Cooper. Mrs. Chester Mann of Clarendon and Mrs. Tom Stone, sister of the bridegroom, from Midland assisted with the reception.

A graduate of Montrose High School, the bride also attended Western Colorado Business College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State University, where he received his Army commission. During his two years of active duty with the Army, he was stationed in Korea for one year.

The couple will be at home at Red River, New Mexico. Brotherton is co-owner and operator for Bruce Spruce Ranch, a summer resort near Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson. Assisting with hostess duties were Mesdames Jack Roatcap, Harold Hoffaber, Joe Hudson and Dale Hase lwood.

Two record albums have been produced by Levee Records. The group was organized in 1961 by one of its members, Ed Bernet, who opened the "Levee" night club in Dallas. Extensions Available

Some 1967 crops under price support loans in commercial storage will be eligible for loan extensions before the respective crop loans mature in 1968, according to Donald Lloyd, manager for the ASCS office here.

Those crops eligible include wheat, corn, grain sorghum, oats and barley. Farmed stored commodity loan extensions will be available subject to the approval of the State ASC Committee.

All Randall County farmers who are eligible for price support on the 1967 crops will be eligible for resale in commercial storage in elevators. This means that producers may retain title to their grain past the loan maturity date if they choose to do so.

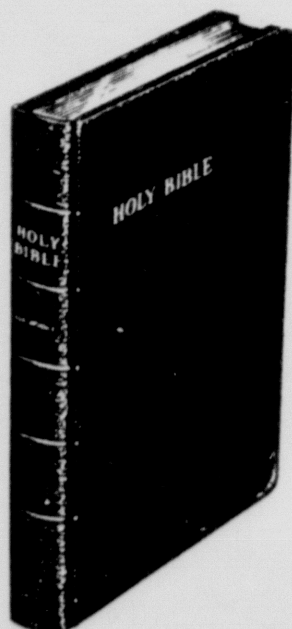

Storage costs for the resale period will be paid by CCC. These payments will be made to farmers for farm stored commodities, provided farm stored resales are authorized by the State Committee.

If warehouse charges are not prepaid by the farmer, CCC will make the payments for the extended period direct to the warehouseman. The payments by CCC will not relieve producers of their obligation for warehouse charges which accrued during the initial loan period, Lloyd explained.

Pork Breeders Hold Sessions

Pork producers from several states gathered at West Texas State University Monday for the Southwest Pork Symposium. Coordinator for the symposium was Dr. Charles Smallwood, head of the WTSU Agriculture Department.

A major factor in the high plains economy, said R. B. Templeton, representative of American Cyanamid, will be pork production. American Cyanamid is a major producer of agricultural products in the nation.

The largest breeder in this area is located near Bovina, Templeton noted, and involves a 570-sow operation. Operations of this size could be expected to become more common to the high plains area, he explained.

Speakers at the conference represented various breeders, veterinary clinics and agriculture instructors.

She stressed that adults and youth should both be informed on the subject and noted that Heart Emphasis Month is annually in February with Heart Sunday slated for February 25, 1968.

Mrs. E. E. Perkins reported to the group on the recent state convention.

Plans were discussed for the upcoming campaign here. The group will meet every month on the first Monday, with the exception of January.

Among directors present were Dean House, vice president; Mary Grabber, secretary-treasurer; Lee Roy Moreland, fund raising chairman, Dr. Manly Bryan, nomination and membership chairman; Dr. Marion Guidry, education and community service chairman; Oscar Hinger, budget and finance chairman; and Mrs. E. ReflectORIZED tape was placed on bicycles, students were quizzed concerning traffic hand signals, and each youngster was given a bicycle operator's driving license.

Bicycle registration and records will be on file with the Randall County Sheriff's Department, which is cooperating on the project with the PTA and Canyon Police Department.

The year-round project, kicked off recently with the presentation of two safety films presented by Ed Richards, safety officer for the DPS, will include a bicycle parade, student court, and an art and essay contest stressing bicycle safety among Canyon youngsters.

Each bicycle passing inspection will receive a license for a 35-cent charge and other safety inspections will be scheduled at a future date, Martin said.
